

NO DEFINITE WORD FROM SAM MILLER YET

Military Dept. Wires Parents to This Effect — He Was Reported Missing About
June 5th

Some time ago word was received from the Militia Department informing Mr. and Mrs. Miller that their son Sam, who left Redcliff with the Third C. M. R., was missing and that no trace could be found of him.

Although fearing the worst, his parents and friends did not give up hope and looked anxiously from day to day expecting that he might have been taken prisoner or was too badly wounded to write. The days have passed into weeks and the weeks into months and still the looked for letter has not arrived. The Militia Department made a special effort to get some information from the records department in England and after hearing from that source wired Mrs. Miller on Tuesday stating that no further information than that already furnished had been received.

In view of all that has been done to try to locate him, and without success, we greatly fear that Sam Miller is but another of Redcliff's gallant sons who has made the supreme sacrifice for his country.

Sam was a boy who was respected by all who knew him. He was thoughtful of his parents and family, a trait which will win a place for any young man in the hearts of his friends. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and the Sons of England lodges, and took a keen interest in all three. He was among the first settlers in town, having come here with his parents shortly after the town started and he showed his interest in the place by becoming one of its property owners.

He was 24 years of age and unmarried.

Former Redcliff Boy Writes From Front

Many of our readers will remember Will A. Woodward who was active in connection with the Union Bible class and the Presbyterian church when it was the only church in town. He is now fighting in the New Zealand contingent in France, after having served some time in Egypt. He writes: "I saw most of the places that are interesting in and around Cairo, Egypt, including the pyramids, museum, etc. I was not sorry to leave Egypt, one was eating too much and the other was getting dirty, living mostly in those mud houses, with hens, chickens, cows, combined they all help to make the family at the table. The Sultan's palace was very nice and there were other fine buildings. I would not care to see it again. I hope to advance like that of the Russians will happen in France soon. By the way, I am somewhere in France; I cannot give you any information as to my whereabouts. I am in the best health. I am pleased to hear that Canada is doing so well in the war. She has made a name for herself that will live in history. Remember to all my kind friends in the Bible class and Sunday school."

Breezelawn S. S. Holds Annual Picnic

The Breezelawn Sunday school picnic is annually an affair of community-wide interest. It was held yesterday, and three rigs proceeded from town to the beautiful grove behind the school house, by the South Saskatchewan. A grove of the largest oaks on the prairie, when you have no string or jack-knife, is not pleasant. One of the ladies carried a picnic of croquet in our case, and we arrived in good time for dinner, which was served on two long tables under the trees. Everybody was there, together with a bowtie contingent, and after a most sumptuous repast, games became the order under the leadership of Mr. Wenzmann. Ice cream and cake were followed by a beautiful supper, and the shades of night were falling when the grove was deserted and the long climb up to the farm began.

Enemy Starts 3rd Year of War On Defensive

Germany entered upon the third year of the war with her forces in nearly all portions of the war front on the defence and with her lines at numerous places in France and Russia pressed back from where they stood a year ago.

Her allies also have turned over the initiative to the entente allies almost everywhere—the Austro-Hungarians in Volynia and in Italy, respectively, to the Russians and the Italians, and the Turks in Asia Minor to the Russians.

In addition, along the Greek border, unofficial reports seem to show that the Serbs and the British and French are preparing to throw down the gauntlet of battle to the Bulgarians and the holders of the central powers.

The Russians, according to the latest Petrograd communication, are keeping up their forward march against the Teutons in the Stokhovi river region of Volynia, and have captured there the entire 11st Hovard regiment, together with its commander and his staff. To the south, near Brody, the Russians also are pressing the Austro-Germans, who are answering the attack by bombarding Brody and the crossings of the Dniester river, endeavoring to hold their lines of defense. Large reinforcements are being brought up to keep the Russians from making further gains toward Lemberg.

All persons entering or leaving Germany now must obtain special permission from the German government, according to a message received at the state department from Ambassador Gerard.

Presentation to Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Ausman Is Blown Up In New York

At the regular meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid last Thursday a surprise awaited two of its members. Mrs. C. W. White was in the chair and she called on Mrs. Gordon for an address. Mrs. Gordon addressed Mrs. E. Blair and Mrs. J. W. Ausman in suitable terms, expressing the Aid's sorrow at parting with two such enjoyable companions and industrious and zealous workers. She said the Sabbath school, the Bible class, the church, as well as the Aid would sorely miss their hearty help, and that of Mr. Ausman who had left a week earlier.

The president, in the name of the Aid, presented Mrs. Blair with a beautiful gold brooch set with pearls and Mrs. Ausman with a silver brooch suitably inscribed.

Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Ausman made reply in suitable words, expressing their thanks to the Aid, their sorrow at parting with so many kind friends, and their good wishes for those who remain. They would ever, they said, carry pleasant memories of Redcliff and its people.

Before the presentation a delicious lunch was served by the ladies. Thereafter the meeting ended in singing "Blest be the tie that binds," and the ladies were given a parting gift.

Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Ausman left by yesterday's evening train. They will visit friends in various parts of the province and Saskatchewan before returning to Toronto. During the three years of their stay here they made many friends who wish them every happiness wherever they may go.

A report from Washington states that the United States government was warned that a German plot was on foot to destroy all war supplies in that country destined for the allies.

Munition Plant Is Blown Up In New York

Property loss estimated at $25,000, was caused last Sunday by a series of terrific explosions of ammunition awaiting shipment to the entente allies, and stored on Black Tom Island, a small strip of land jutting into New York bay off Jersey City.

The loss of life is problematical. It will not be determined definitely until there has been opportunity to check up the workmen employed on the island and on boats moored nearby. Three are known to be dead, and at least five more injured, some of them probably fatally.

The detonations, which were felt in five states, began with a continuous rapid fire of small shells, then the blowing up of great quantities of dynamite.

A report from Washington states that the United States government was warned that a German plot was on foot to destroy all war supplies in that country destined for the allies.

Looks Like Letting Opportunity Pass

That western Canada is to experience the greatest back-to-the-land movement in the history of this section of the Dominion and that this movement will be made by citizens of our own domain, and therefore the best possible settlers, is the opinion of H. B. Cowan, editor of the Farm and Dairy, an agricultural paper published at Peterboro, Ont.

With these promising prospects it is too bad that some steps are not taken to speed up the movement. The fact is, so that Redcliff and vicinity might profit by the expected back to the land movement.

It took as though we were going to be forced to allow this opportunity to pass.

Ye Editor's Nephew Recognized in London

Robert Williams, who left here for the front with a Calgary battalion, writes to R. Wray to inform him that he is now in the hospital in England and is in training there for some time. He has been in the trenches yet to be taken ill while in training at Sherbrooke. He is progressing favorably, however, and expects to be able to proceed to the front. When in Redcliff, Williams was employed by the Light and Power Company.

One portion of Mr. Williams' letter is particularly interesting to the quill pusher of this paper. He says he was having lunch one day at a downtown restaurant and sitting opposite him was a young soldier who very much resembled Ed Stone of Redcliff. The resemblance was so striking that he could not refrain from asking him if his name was Ed Stone. The lad said it was. Then he asked him if he was any relation to the fellow who was in the war in Redcliff. Again the answer was in the affirmative, for the lad said the Redcliff editor was his uncle. Mr. Williams is proud to claim kinship with such a brave young lad who is carrying so much to fight for us in this bloodiest war ever recorded in history. He is a fine specimen of Canadian manhood, even if he does resemble your humble servant. He is a son of the editor's brother, in Perth, Ont.

Redcliff Reservist Now Among Slain

It will be remembered among the lot to leave Redcliff after the outbreak of the war were six reservists. Although all of these proceeded at once to the front the only one mentioned in the casualty lists was Jack Jones. In May, 1915, he was "reservist" in training but no further word was received and as his allowance was still coming to his wife, it was thought he was still alive. However the sad news came to his wife this week stating that he had been killed in action on March 11th, 1916.

Shortly before leaving for the front Jones was married to Miss Nellie Coombs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coombs, of the Manyberries district, with whom she has been living ever since. To them was born a daughter.

Mr. Kitchen of this town is a sister.

Local Red Cross Makes Shipment

The Redcliff branch of the Red Cross society is still enthusiastically on the work of making comforts for the troops. This week they made another shipment which consisted of the following:

Thirty surgical shirts, 9 pairs pyjamas, 12 surgical stockings, 9 pairs aprons, 172 T. bandages, 12 pairs triangular bandages, 6 abdominal belts, 72 bottle side bags, 12 hot water clogs, 25 pairs socks, 9 colored handkerchiefs, 200 white handkerchiefs, and a package of mouth wiped and bandages.

Ranchers Must Pay Taxes on Leased Land

A big rancher in Saskatchewan refused to pay taxes to the municipality for land which he had leased, on the ground that he was immune because he paid the Dominion government for the lease. The municipality sued him for the amount of the taxes. Suit was brought against him in the supreme court of Saskatchewan in January, 1912, but the case was dismissed and judgment was given to the municipality. The case was then appealed to the Saskatchewan supreme court en banc, and the judgment of Justice Newlands was upheld. It was then appealed to the supreme court of Canada, where the judgment was again upheld. It was then taken to the Privy Council in England for a final decision. The Privy Council, in a decision handed down last week, ruled in favor of the municipality, and the judgment was again upheld.

The finding will be of considerable importance to rural municipalities and lease holders.

This Year Will Be the Allies' In the War

At the close of two years of the war and of the first month of British offensive, General Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the group of British armies in France, in speaking of the situation, laid particular emphasis on the fact that the beginning of the third year of the war saw the initiative entirely with the allies on all fronts, while England, for the first time, was exerting something like a power worthy of her numerous resources on land.

"The tide has turned," he said. "Time has been with the allies from the first. It is only a question of more time till we win a decisive victory, which is the one sure way of bringing peace in this, as in other wars. Until this victory is won it will become a British soldier in France to fight to gain peace."

Town Taxes Are Coming in Nicely

The amount of taxes paid into the town treasury so far this year is a number of times that in the corresponding period last year.

Last Monday was the last day for the 10 per cent rebate was Oct. 15th and up till that date only $19,500 was paid. This means that to date there are $5,000 more paid in this year than there were two and a half months after last year.

The showing is most satisfactory, and may be taken as a fair indication of the comparative improvement in conditions.

North Ontario Towns Wiped Out By Fire

Forest fire swept over the Northern Ontario district last Saturday, Sunday and Monday wiping out a number of small towns and leaving a trail of death which is computed at 240.

The towns laid waste by the flames are Nookla, Cochrane, Matheson, Irguiga Falls, Porcupine Junction and others.

The following are the towns affected: Unakha suffered worst. It consisted of a score of frame dwellings and stores and had been threatened for some days. It was practically surrounded by flames of setting off and escape to the south and north, and with no river or lake at hand the inhabitants were doomed.

Cochrane was entirely burned, with the exception of Second and Third avenues. The proximity of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario trunks and the lake saved most of the residents.

Ramora, a small settlement, was completely wiped out. Matheson was totally destroyed with the exception of two houses, and 24 bodies are laid out on the station platform.

Scull's Porcupine suffered only the loss of the saw mill and the station. It Timmish the flames were checked on the outskirts after licking up 17 houses.

At Irguiga Falls nothing remains but just the paper mills and the railway station.

Since the above was put in type a more serious and delicate case has been heard of the devastated country and has shown that the death list is much larger than was at first estimated. The number of casualties now reaches the 500 mark.

The German submarine merchantman Deutschland set out last Tuesday from Baltimore on a return voyage to Germany with a declaration of contempt from her commander, and Paul Koenig, that he would take her home in spite of the heavy odds she was facing when the three-mile limit in the Atlantic is reached.

New Zealand has decided in favor of a compulsory military service bill, applicable to men of any age not less than 16 years and not more than 46. The only important amendment to the measure by the legislative council was a stringent religious objectors' exemption clause.

MORE GERMAN ATROCITIES

For attempting to defend his boat against the attack of German submarines, Capt. Fryatt, of the British Steamship Brussels, was court-martialed by the Germans and ordered to be shot.

The execution has already taken place and by it another bloody chapter has been added to Germany's already long list of atrocities.

The charge made against Fryatt was that he was a franc-tireur civilian who took up arms without legal standing.

It is indeed a shock to civilization that a merchant captain, the pride of the British public, has been slain in cold blood for what the civilized world regarded as doing his duty in the finest possible way.

If Britain and her allies were to place the German prisoners now on their hands, up against a stone wall and massacre them because they attempted to defend themselves against their enemies, they would be doing nothing more inhuman or unfair. But, thank God, that is not the way the un-kulturized allies carry on war.

SOAKING THE TOWNS.

"The Alberta government is going license and tax crazy." This is a statement we have heard so often lately that we began to look into the matter, and the more we looked into it the more we were convinced that there is more truth than fiction in it.

First, there were the hotel or liquor licenses. At one time the town or city where liquor licenses were granted, got a share of the license money, but the provincial government decided to hog the whole thing. This meant that the towns and cities had to maintain an extra police force to look after the drunks which the provincial government was licensing. Nor was this the worst feature of it. When the town and city police arrested a drunk and he was fined the province bubbled up and confiscated the fine, or at least the lion's share of it.

Then there is the license end of the deal. There was a time when municipalities, villages, towns and cities could impose a license for pool and billiard rooms, barber shops, auctioneers, peddlers, and a dozen other lines, but now the government has taken over all these and by doing so have been the cause of many law suits which were necessary to find out whether or not a man engaged in any of these pursuits was expected to pay both a provincial and local license. In most cases it was decided by the court that he was not and the result has been that the towns and cities have been done out of another source of revenue.

On top of all this the government bobs up again with a picture show or theatre tax, which may be taken as evidence that it is the intention of the present government to soak the towns and cities to a finish, or at least as long as they are willing to stand for it.

We know it takes money to run a province the size of Alberta and we have no objection to paying our share of that expense. But in return for the amount this town and district is paying in licenses and taxes we would like to see at least little spent where it is collected.

This has been going on for years but at the present moment we cannot recall a single dollar that the provincial government has collected in this town, notwithstanding the fact that we have a representative who is supposed to stand in with the present administration.

Some may say: "What do you want? There is one thing we want and want badly. It is something the Review has been advocating ever since it started under the present management and will continue to advocate till the cows come home, and it is something that grit and tory alike will give first place to at the next election. That is a bridge or ferry over the river at this point to connect us up with the thickly populated country south of us."

The government may say they cannot afford it. But we say to them, take the money which you are collecting in licenses, taxes and fines and apply it on something in the district in which it is collected and the Review will have no kick coming.

LIVE STOCK SITUATION.

One matter which is now occupying the attention of Canadian farmers is: Are they justified in believing that the firm tone of the horse and cattle market rests upon a secure enough foundation to warrant them going in for all they are worth?

We are confident that the farmer has never been in a more secure position than the present, as regards the extension of his breeding operations. To enable him to form more easily his own conclusions we submit the following facts:

Since the outbreak of war the British Remount Commission has purchased in Canada 15,000 horses. Eight thousand have been bought by French contractors and 25,000 by the Canadian Department of Militia. The Department of Militia is now engaged in buying an additional thousand head. The British Remount Commission has purchased over 700 since March and is buying daily in Montreal. French contractors are anxious to obtain supplies and are arranging to buy all that are available both in the east and in the west.

These facts can leave no doubt as to the prospects of the horse market for several years to come.

The same is true of the cattle situation. A competent authority estimates that average prices current for beef on the Smithfield market in London, England, show an increase of 40 per cent since the outbreak of war. The position in Europe is well known.

The Argentine output has been absorbed for army supply to such an extent that very little frozen Argentine beef is available for civil consumption.

On the whole the steady and continuous rise in price definitely reveals the condition of the world market for beef and emphasizes the fact that the situation is growing worse with the progress of the war.

In a pamphlet issued by the Department of Agriculture, an article reviewing this situation, says that farmers should emphasize quality before quantity, and says that a real good pure bred sire should be secured by every community. "The maintenance or use of a scrub bull is under the present circumstances," the article says, "should be deemed an unpatriotic act."

The position is different with regard to grain. It is understood that enormous stores of wheat are tied up in Russia. The length of the war will determine what these accumulations would be. With their release it is possible that there may be a considerable drop in price. With such conditions, and a pronounced under-supply of cattle, the farmers of Canada should have little difficulty in making up their minds as to what their policy shall be for the future.

The Medicine Hat News says that by refusing to sell two per cent, beer the soft drink license holders of that city are retaining for the city a clean reputation. We wonder what the News will think of the reputation of Medicine Hat when we tell them that a traveller was soaked $1.50 for sleeping on a cot on the veranda of a private house in that two per-centless berg. The worst of it is that when the traveller complained of the price the landlady informed him she only got $1.00 and the Board of Trade got 50c. As a chain is no stronger than its weakest link we cannot see that the News has much to boast about in the "clean city" line. "Soakout City" would be more to the point.

Londoners call Sir Sam Hughes the "Kitchenier of Canada." The shell investigation does not seem to have hurt Sam's string in the old land, which brings to mind the old saying that "a man is not without honor save in his own country."

That old country gent who came over to Canada and asked a banker his advice on investing in some British Columbia stock, then turned around and sold the bank for the amount he lost in his investment because times got bad, is like the school boy who traded his marbles for an apple, then after he had eaten the apple cried to get his marbles back.

Liberal papers are again predicting a Dominion election the near future. War news has been a little monotonous during the past two weeks. This is the only reason we can think of for the fresh election outbreak.

It is now beginning to look as though the millennium were in sight. The farmers and bankers have come to an agreement regarding rural credit. Thus do the lion and the lamb lie down together.

Soldiers May Now Go to Harvest Fields

Harvesters going into the wheat fields from the central points, Calgary, Lethbridge and Edmonton, are to be allowed a rate of one cent a mile by the railways, according to a recent mandate issued. Soldiers are to be allowed to go from the camps to the fields after Aug. 1st, and the date when the rate will come into effect is to be announced later. Rates from Ontario to the west are also to be arranged, the fare being but $15 from the eastern province to Winnipeg, and one cent per mile after that.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lavell spent last Sunday in the country visiting Mr. & Mrs. A. McClellan.

Fernice Kops left last for the Medicine Hat hospital where she will undergo an operation.

Miss C. McKay, who has been confined to her bed for some time, has now sufficiently recovered to be out around again.

FOR SALE—Number of pigs at 8 weeks. Ready for delivery August 15th. Five dollars each. L. M. Mansfield, Bowell, N. E. 4-2-14-7.

A Chinaman employed at the Rolling Mills had his foot badly hurt by a piece of falling iron. His great toe was almost severed but the doctor managed to save it.

It is the intention of the Brick and Coal Company here to erect a new mine pit in first class shape for mining this fall and winter. New machinery will be installed as soon as it can be secured.

James Cahoon, who has been in the Medicine Hat hospital for the past six weeks where he underwent an operation, has returned to his home west of town feeling much improved in health.

The Red Cross executive will meet in the society's room next Tuesday afternoon, August 8th, at 5 o'clock. As matters of importance will be brought up a full attendance is requested.

Jack Young purchased a fine team of heavy work horses from Adam Du Beau this week. He intends using them in his dry business.

Quite a number from here took in the excursion to Calgary yesterday. Mrs. Wm. M. Putnam, of Gros Ventre, was a visitor to the week-end at the Presbyterian manse. Her little son Norman Fraser was baptized at the morning service on Sunday.

According to Calgary papers the savings deposits in that city increased nearly $100,000 for the first month of prohibition. In July last there were 77 drunks arrested before the magistrates. Last month only 15 answered to this charge.

The Pressed Brick Company has had a most successful run during the past few weeks. Although they are not running on as large a scale as usual the output per day is much larger than ever before. They will add five or six more men to the staff this week.

Dr. E. W. Brown leaves this evening for Chicago, where he will attend to the business of his office. During his absence Dr. Gershaw and Smyth of Medicine Hat, will attend to his practice here. Word left at Dr. Brown's office will be promptly attended to. Mrs. Brown and family will return with the doctor.

A meeting will be held in the Men's Club rooms on Tuesday, Aug. 8th, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a mock parliament. This is open to all. You do not need to be a member to participate in this. All the questions and local discussion will be taken up and decided upon and mock legislation enacted. This will interest all parties.

According to reports no mail will cross the Atlantic from England or France for the next couple of months. The reason given for the restriction is that the military authorities do not wish any leakage of military information during that period. Several letters received locally from the front convey the information. Those having friends at the front need not worry if they do not hear from them should this be the case.

The August tournament at Mac's Bowling alley is now well under way. Get into the game early.

TEAMSTER WANTED—None but experienced men need apply. Roy Crouch, Redcliff Garage.

New that there are so many boys from Redcliff in the trenches it is hard for us to keep track of them all. I would be glad if friends would let us know when they hear or see any mentioned in the casualty lists.

At an auction sale held at Dunmore last week, Adam Du Beau, a prosperous farmer west of here, purchased 16 manure carts with feet. They are a fine bunch and are now with the rest of his stock on the farm.

Three girls from Redcliff went on a walk.

Twins done on a bet, the said; They tramp to the hat without a baulk.

Orley Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Barber, met with a painful accident last Tuesday evening. He was playing with his dog when he fell off the walk and broke his shoulder blade. Although suffering considerable pain at first, he is now resting easier and is progressing favorably.

The question of farm help will no longer be a serious one this harvest. In order to help along this line the Review will take the names of any who are desirous of helping in the harvest fields and we will try to place them with farmers needing help.

The exceptionally fine ripening weather of the past week has brought the grain along wonderfully and it is now in excellent condition. Cutting in some fields will start next week but it will not be general for another ten days.

T. A. Hicks, who conducted a gentle farming business here two years ago, has decided to return to town and open up again in the old stand. He has bought out a big sale, and announcement of which is made in this issue. The store will be open for business this week.

As is customary with all glass factories the plant here has closed some of its departments in accordance with union rules. Advantage will be taken of this opportunity to rebuild the furnace and get everything in shape to open up in full force again in about six weeks. The plant, however, is not entirely closed down, as the bottle-making machine is still in operation and will be kept going till the other departments are opened up again.

The Old English Fair will take place on Thursday evening next on St. Ambrose church grounds, which will be decorated and illuminated. Among the many amusements and attractions will be moonlight dancing to a good band, greasy pole walking, punch-bag contests, Aunt Sally, hat trimming competition for men, horse shoes, nail hammering for ladies, old country dance by children, etc. Good prizes for the competitors. Ice cream and cooling drinks. Remember the evening, Thursday, August 10th.

CANADIAN AIRMEN BUSY

A report from New York says: "Ten great aeroplanes of the latest and most improved type have been sent by the British government to vessels of the allied fleet off the Chesapeake capes to help warships locate the submarine Deutschland at sea."

"The ships have been sent from Canada and reached the allied vessels a few days ago naval officers assert. The addition of aircraft minimizes the chances of the submarine eluding the patrols. The latest plan, according to officials, is to spread out the warships in the shape of a fan, and keep the aircraft on watch. If the Deutschland is located the allied aviators are expected to drop bombs into the water and destroy the submarine."

Supervisor Appointed For Technical School

W. A. Davidson, M. E., M. Sc., manager of the International Coal & Coke Company, of Coleman, Alberta, has been appointed as supervisor of Technical Instruction in Mining for the province and head of the Department of Mining in the Institute of Technology.

Mr. Davidson will be responsible for the organization of Technical Instruction in Mining through the medium of night classes and part-time classes in the various mining centres and also through instruction by correspondence for men in the district where there are not enough students to justify the formation of local classes, or where it is found impossible to secure a satisfactory instructor in the local centre. Instruction will be offered also at the institute itself on the demand arises. This will involve the selection and organization of the materials and subject matter of instruction, and the preparation of students for the examinations which they must pass.

They Call Sir Sam "Canadian Kitchen"

Sir Sam Hughes, interviewed after his arrival in London, made a special reference to recruiting among French-Canadians. While it has not been the same scale as the rest of Canada, he said, recruiting among French-Canadians has lately been picking up in a marked degree, and now, Sir Sam said, "is more than satisfactory."

Three London papers have in the course of the past week advocated a
